NFL MINORITY STAKES

$12.5B

Slightly more than this: the team's value in Salata's 2.1% deal

ROSS AGREES TO SELL 2.1% OF THE DOLPHINS AT A RECORD STAKE PRICE

A new high-water mark for a minority stake in an NFL franchise, per Hoodline citing SBJ

SWIPE →

THE DEAL

A 2.1% STAKE, PENDING THE OWNERS' VOTE

STEVE ROSS

— 2.1% OF THE DOLPHINS AND ITS AFFILIATED BUSINESSES —

JEAN ERIC SALATA

2.1%

- Values the team at slightly more than $12.5 billion
- Reportedly includes pieces of Hard Rock Stadium, the F1 Hard Rock Miami Grand Prix and the Miami Open interest
- NFL finance committee reportedly approved it last month
- League owners expected to take it up next week in New York City

OCT 19, 2026

WHO IS INVOLVED

THE SELLER, THE BUYER AND THE CAP TABLE

SR

STEVE ROSS

Majority owner since 2009

Miami Dolphins

JE

JEAN ERIC SALATA

Chairman; founder of Baring Private Equity Asia

EQT AB

DS

DAN SILLMAN

CEO, named in August

Ross Sports & Entertainment

LB

LIN BIN

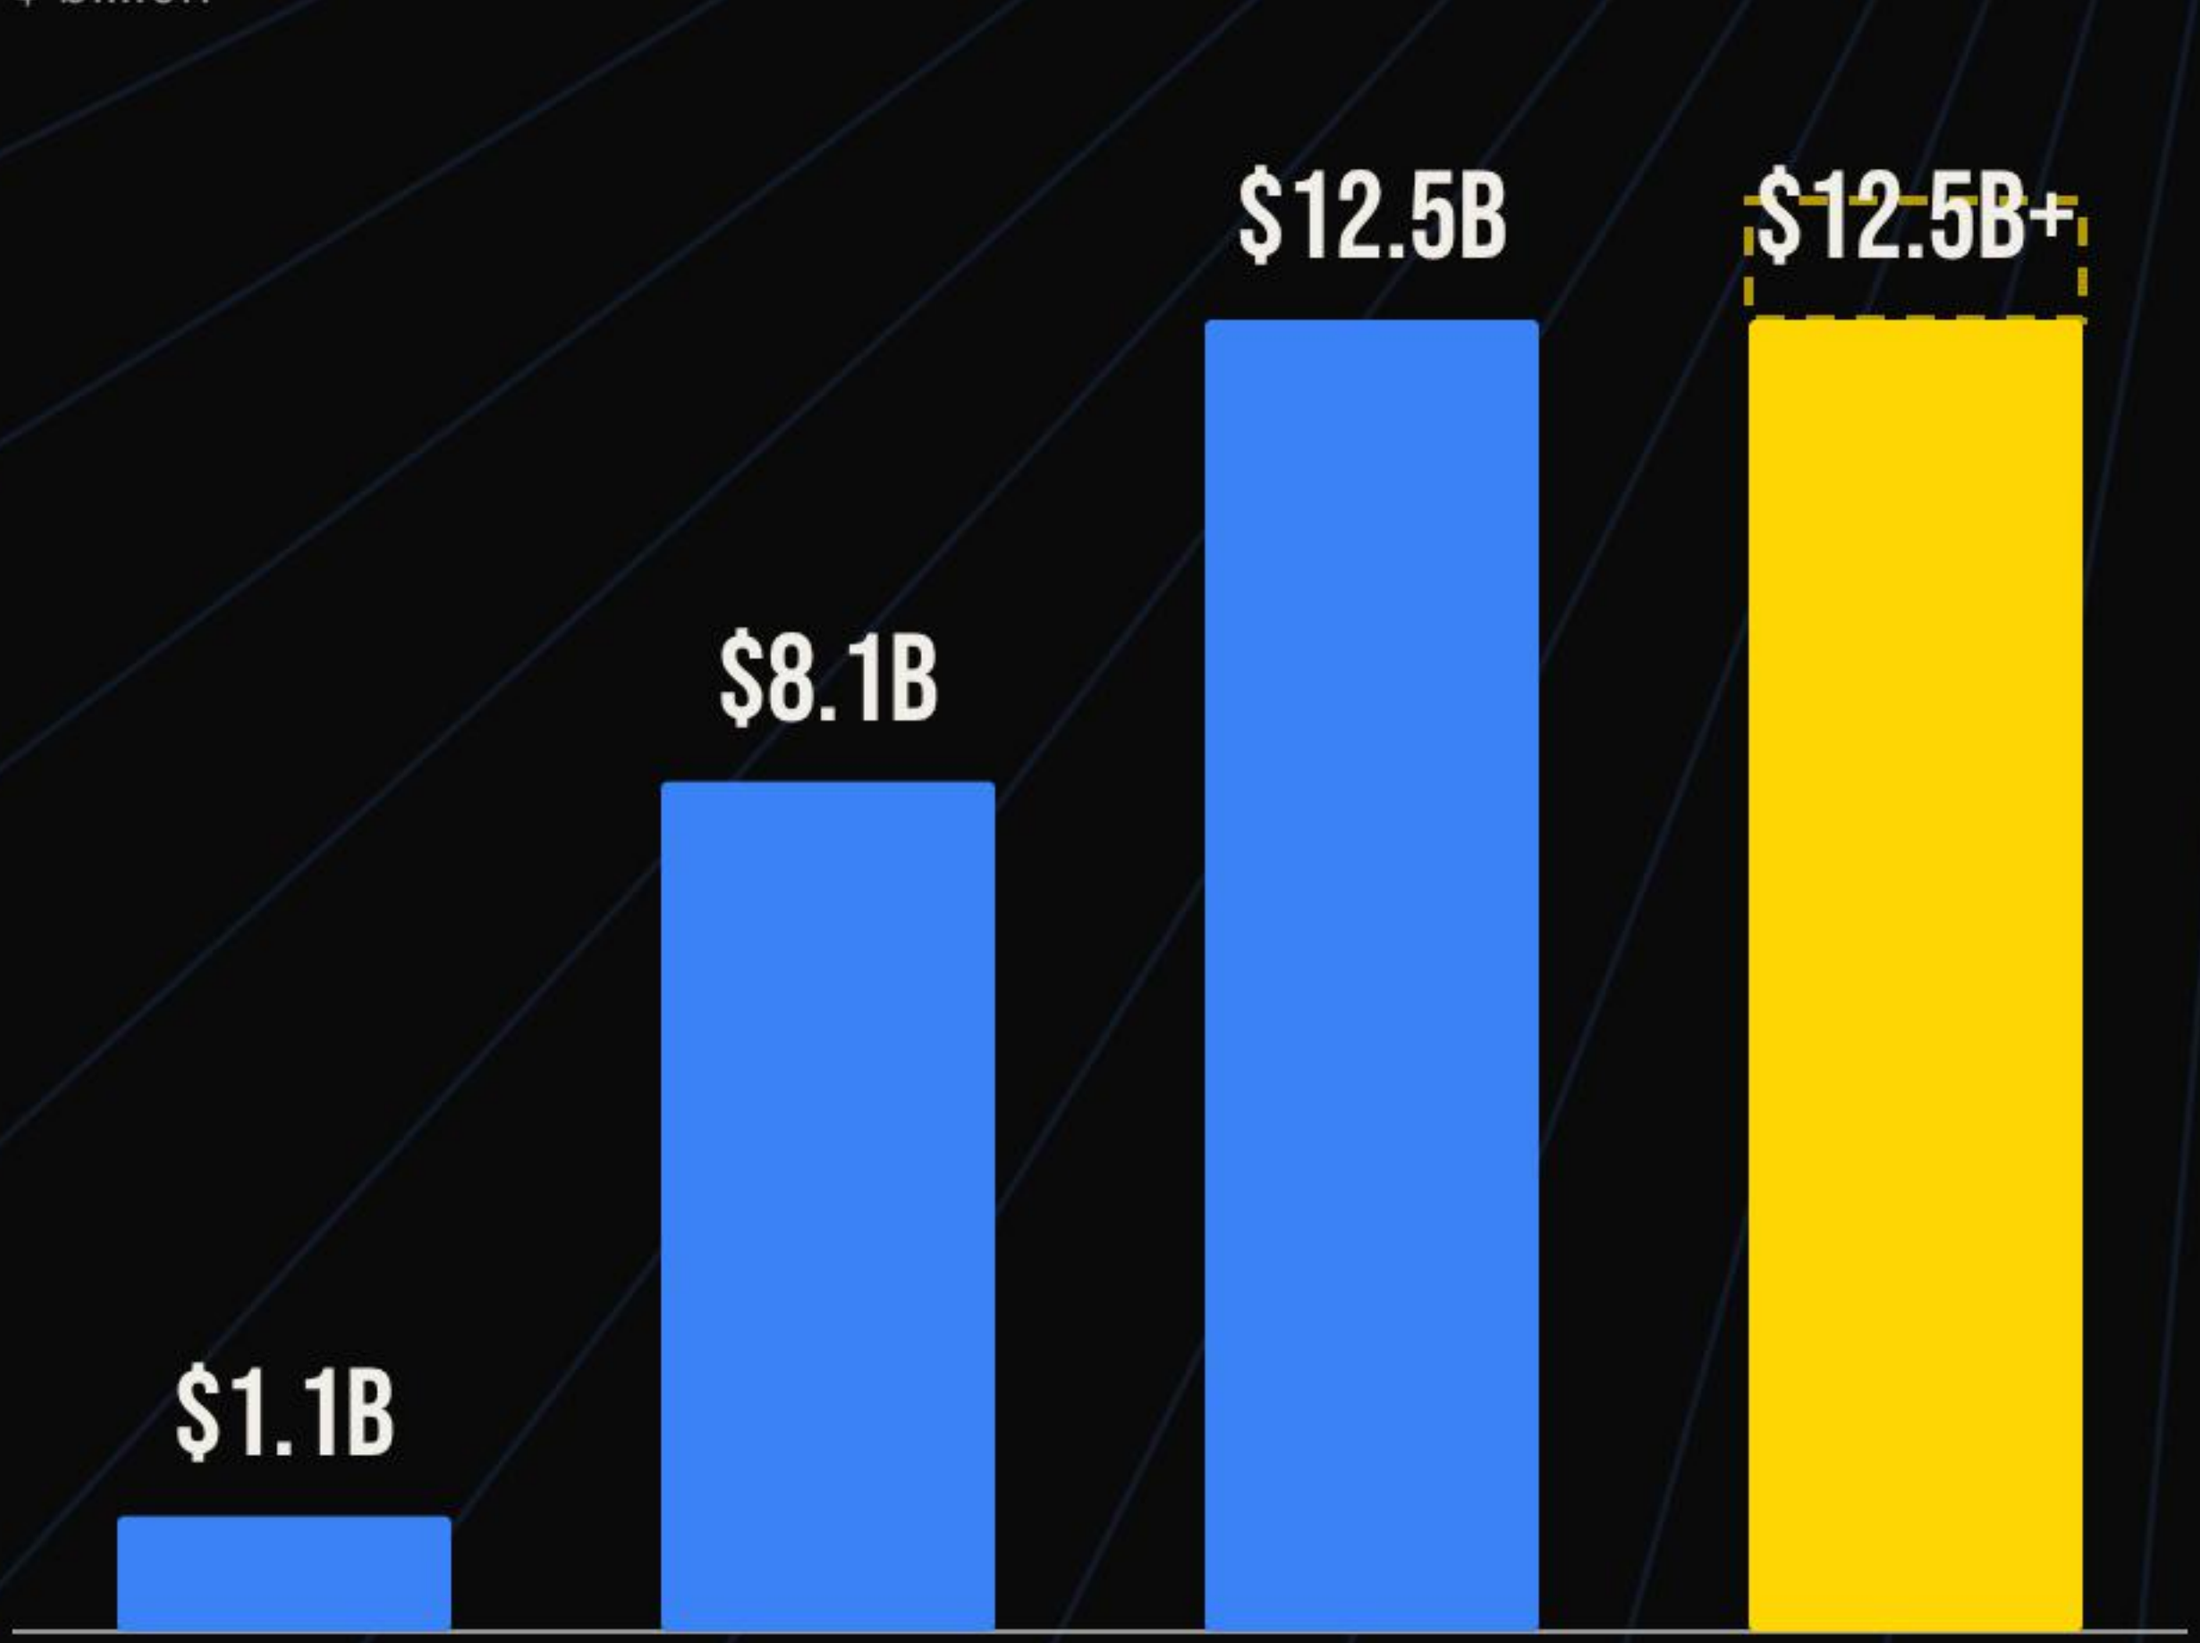

Co-founder and vice chairman; Dolphins limited partner

Xiaomi

THE PRICE PATH

WHAT EACH ROSS TRANSACTION VALUED THE DOLPHINS AT

$ billion

OCT 19, 2026

SLAM SPORTS AI

INVESTMENT 05/10

PRICE VS ESTIMATES

THE DEAL PRICE AGAINST PUBLIC DOLPHINS ESTIMATES

$ billion

OCT 19, 2026

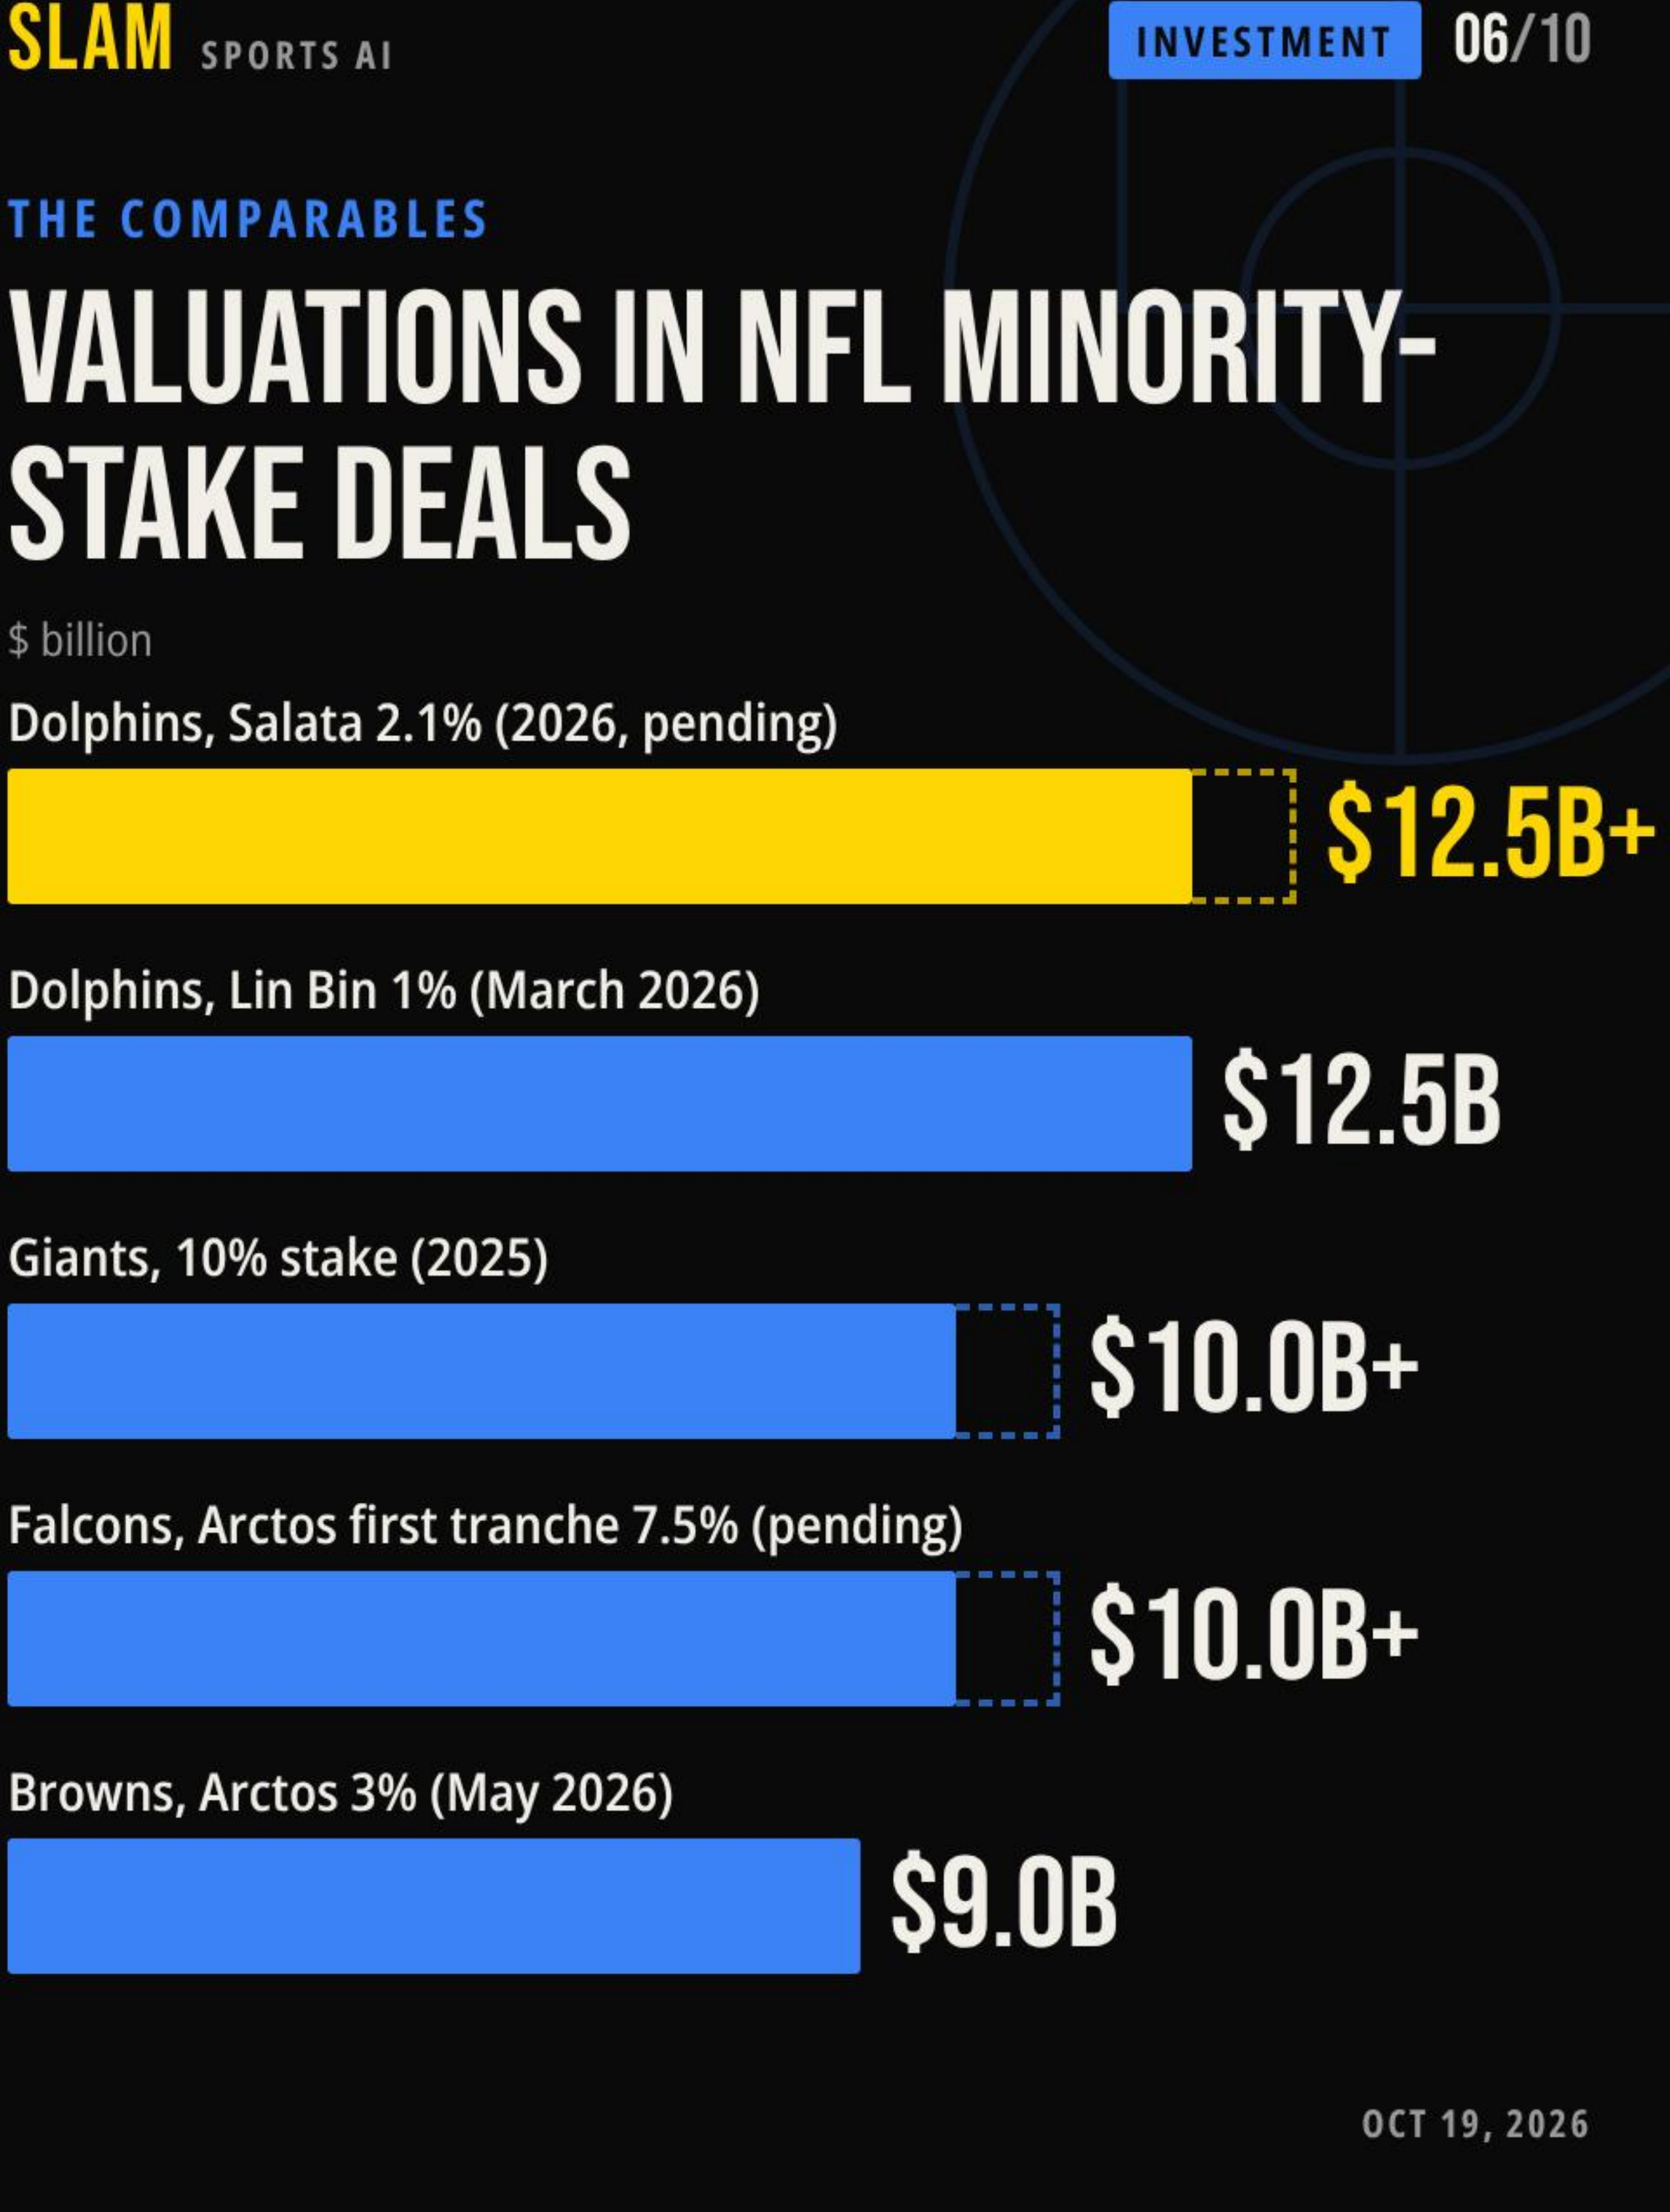

SLAM SPORTS AI

INVESTMENT 06/10

THE COMPARABLES

VALUATIONS IN NFL MINORITY-STAKE DEALS

$ billion

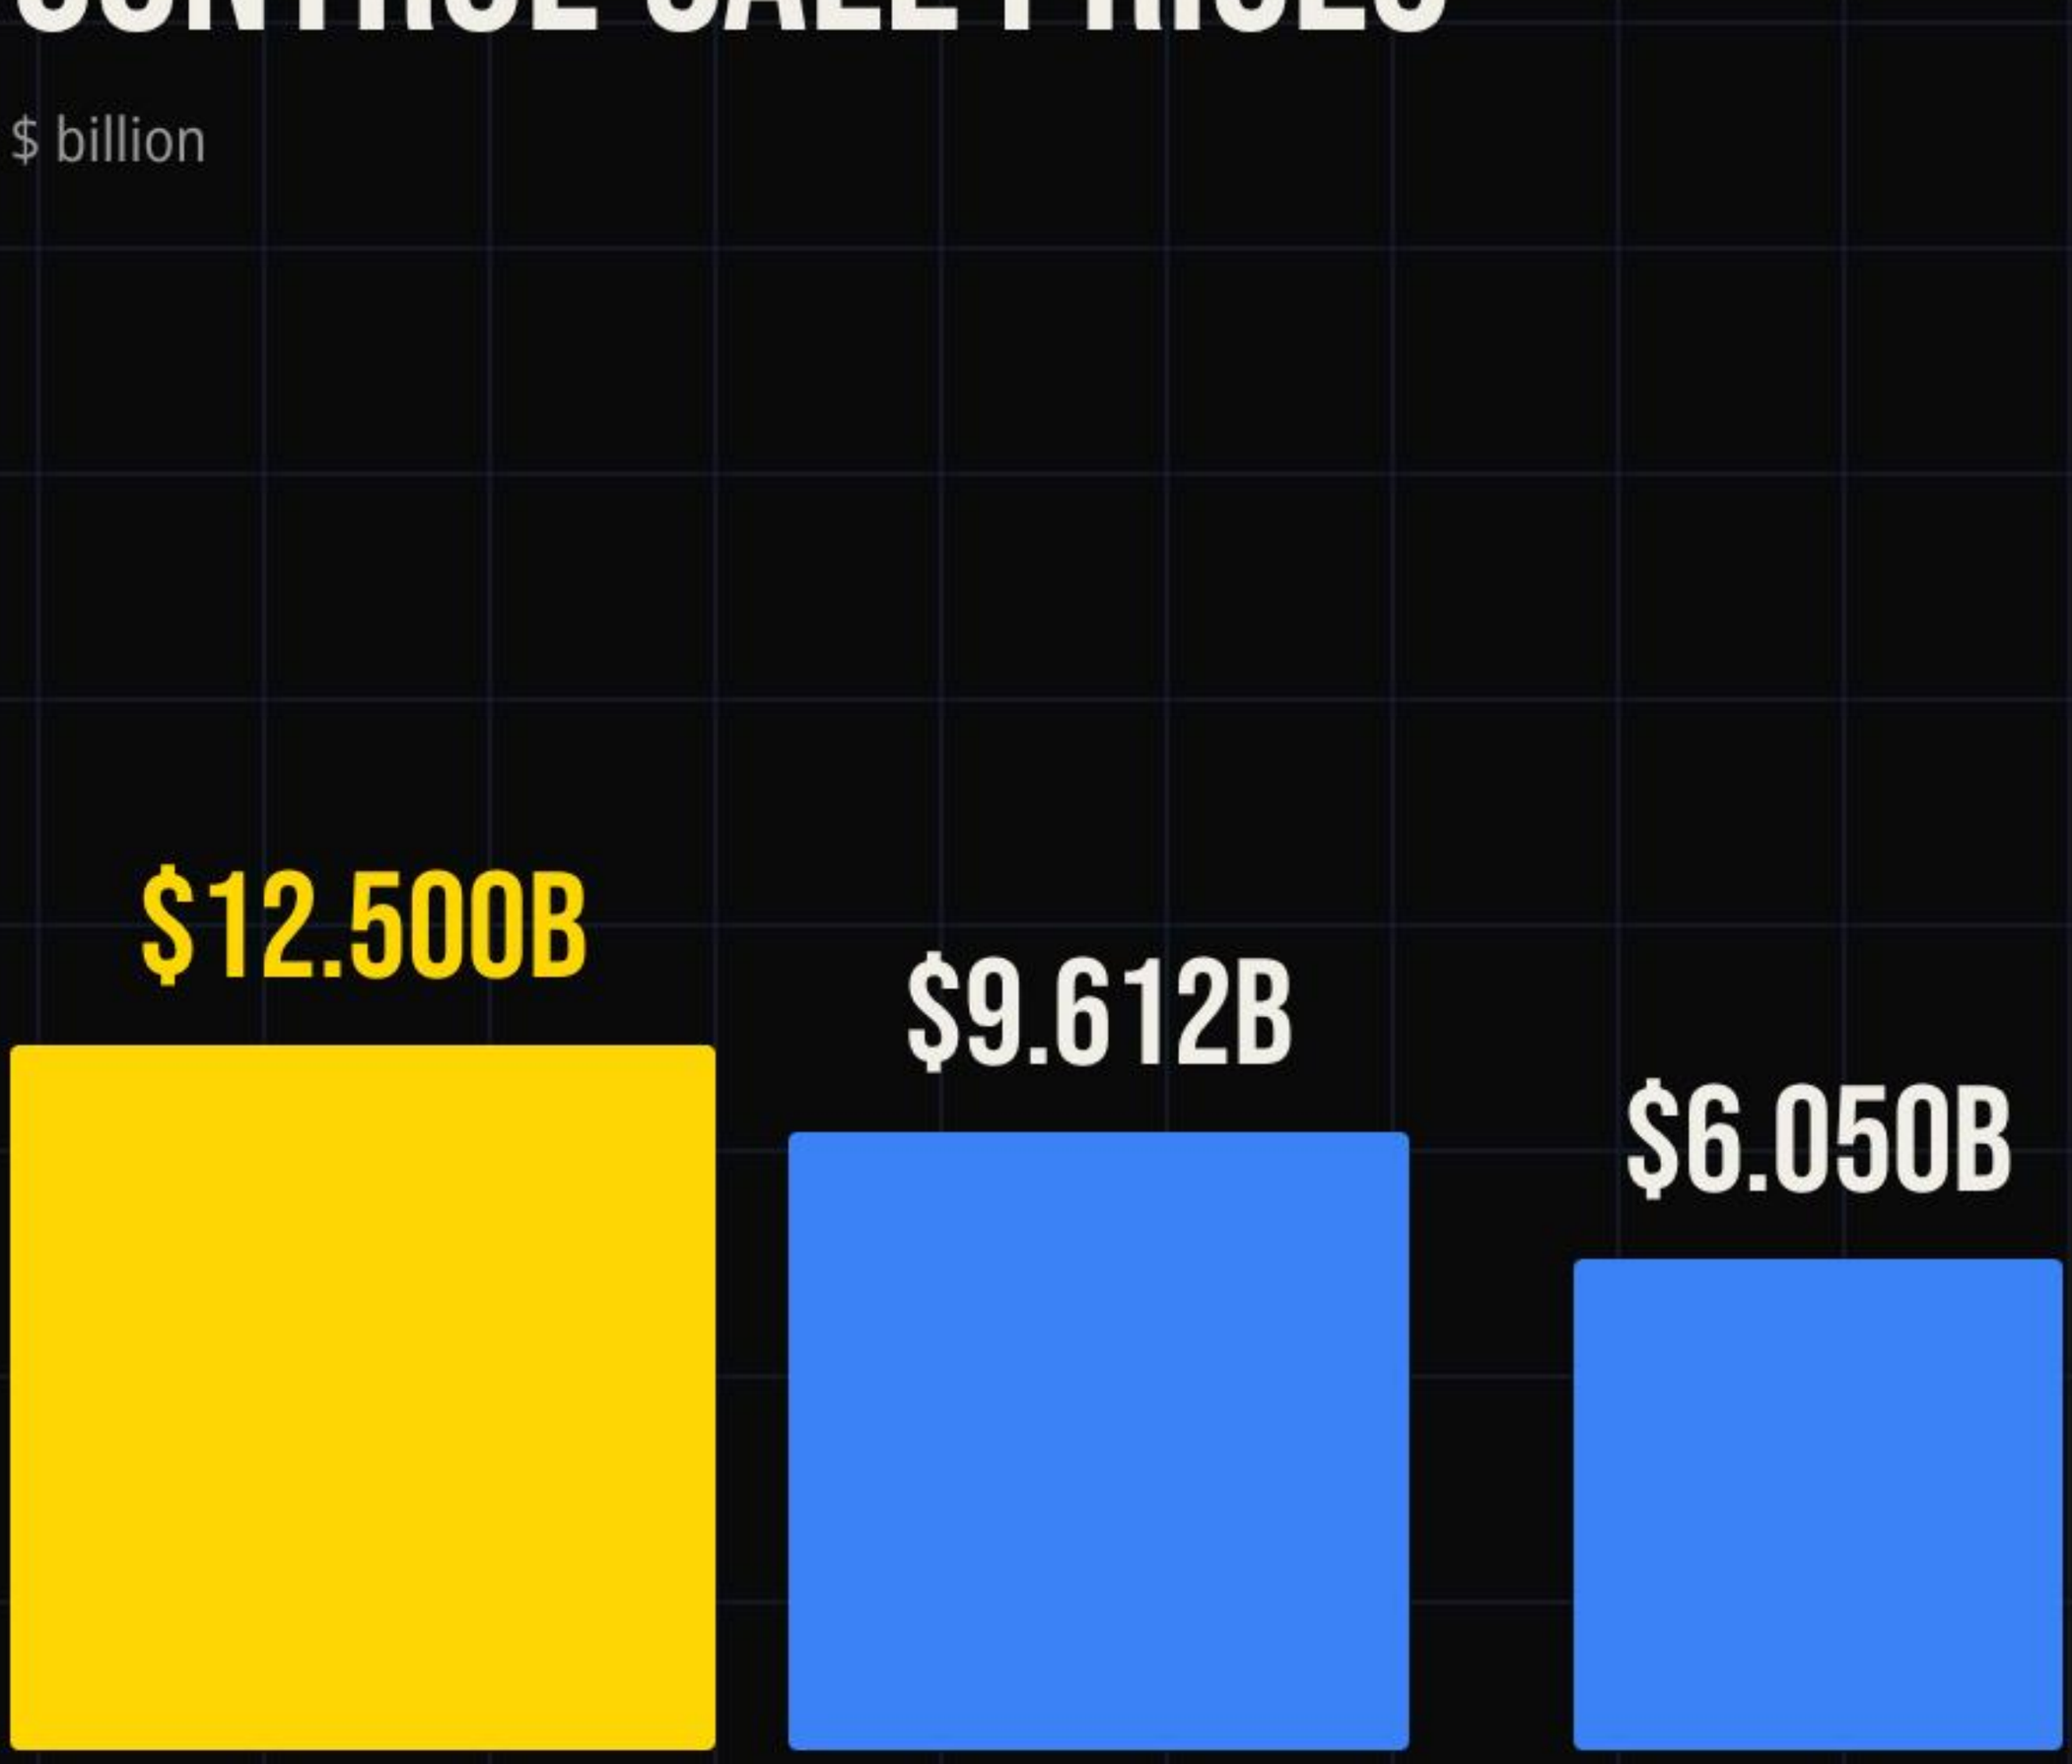

OCT 19, 2026

CONTROL SALES

FOR SCALE: THE BIGGEST CONTROL-SALE PRICES

$ billion

HOW WE GOT HERE

ROSS'S MINORITY SALES, ONE BY ONE

2009

Ross pays $1.1 billion to acquire the team from Wayne H. Huizenga

DEC 2024

10% to Ares Management and a combined 3% to Joe Tsai and Oliver Weisberg, at $8.1 billion

MAR 3, 2026

Lin Bin agrees to buy a stake at a $12.5 billion valuation

AUG 2026

Dan Sillman named CEO of Ross Sports & Entertainment

OCT 18, 2026

Salata's 2.1% deal reported; owners expected to vote next week

WHY HE SELLS

WHY ROSS KEEPS SELLING SLICES

1 COLLATERAL

Ross has said he uses Ross Sports & Entertainment and his Dolphins ownership as collateral for loans that fund real estate projects, the Herald reports.

2 ESTATE PLANNING

He has framed the sales as estate planning, selling RSE shares to reduce inheritance taxes for his daughters.

3 CONTROL STAYS

Ross has said he has no interest in selling his majority stake in the franchise.

4 NEXT: THE GRAND PRIX

Ross is in advanced talks to sell a 20% stake in the Miami Grand Prix to Otro Capital; no deal has been finalized.

SOURCES

SOURCES

Hoodline: Dolphins Owner Steve Ross Sells 2.1% Stake at Record $12.5 Billion Valuation hoodline.com

Sportico: Chinese Billionaire Buys Miami Dolphins Stake at $12.5B Valuation
sportico.com

Sportico: NFL's Falcons to Sell 10% to Arctos at Over $10 Billion Valuation
sportico.com

Sportico: NFL Owners Approve $9.6 Billion Seahawks Sale to Khoslas
sportico.com

FOLLOW SLAM SPORTS AI FOR THE DEALS BEHIND US SPORTS, SOURCED.